

Christian grew up as an Air Force dependent, living on numerous military bases during his father's 24 year career, and finally settling in Colorado Springs in 2003. He graduated from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (Go Big Red!) with a degree in business, then earned a M.S. in Organizational Management from the University of Arkansas.

Christian currently works as Contracting/Grants Officer for the Federal Government. Christian and his wife Jessica have a son, Henry.