

Howard, a Gleneagle resident for 3 years, previously lived in Virginia and Pennsylvania. These moves have given Howard an appreciation for Tri-Lakes Cares' mission to reach out to those who find themselves in situational poverty. He found himself unemployed upon moving to Colorado, which was a difficult time. While he got through those times, he is happy now to partner with TLC who can help others in times like he experienced. He hopes that his understanding of people, processes and business will help Tri Lakes Cares in his 3 year tenure as board member.

Howard is a software developer of 25 years. He is married to Lisa, who also serves on the board, and has three children who are currently in college. They have 2 affectionate, happy doodles who love to go the dog park. Having grown up near Pittsburgh, come football season he is an enthusiastic Steeler fan. He also loves bowling, golf and long hikes into the woods.
