

Josh strives to add value to everything he does and to every relationship he has. His life mission is to serve those with spiritual, physical, social, and financial needs to ensure they have support and opportunities for development in their community. Josh has over 20 years of experience supporting not-for-profit organizations in a strategic development capacity with significant experience serving civic and education organizations as well social organizations that focus on youth and underprivileged adults. Josh relentlessly pursues education, currently holding a Master's degree from The University of Notre Dame and has taught as a University Lecturer at UCCS. Josh was fortunate to serve the City of Colorado Springs on the primary steering committee for its Comprehensive Plan where he was able to draft a vision statement for the community. Josh's favorite pastime though is spending time with his three children playing and learning throughout the community, outdoors, and simply enjoying his with them at home.
